We have extensive experience planning trips for a variety of different group types: honeymoons, family vacations, conservation travel, wellness retreats, foodies, multi-generational families, friend groups, and small or large group travel. Q: Is it safe to travel to Africa?

A: Like many things in life, there is a right way and a wrong way to do something. The idea of traveling to Africa might feel a bit daunting, which is exactly why you should always utilize a trusted travel partner to ensure every detail of your itinerary is handled with the utmost care. When it relates to safety, we pride ourselves on our white-glove service, meet-and-assist support for all transfers so you are never alone, 24-7 on-property security, and the most knowledgeable safari guides & rangers. We are happy to say in 15 years of sending guests to Africa we have not had a single safety issue with our clients.

Q: What does a typical day on safari look like?

A: A typical day on safari begins with an early morning wake up call (often from the sounds of wild animals in the distance), a cup of coffee and a snack before departing for your morning game drive. Just after dawn is an excellent time for animal activity while on safari. After a few hours of exciting viewings, a gourmet breakfast feast awaits at your lodge. During the heat of mid-day, animals are typically resting, so guests have some free time to relax and enjoy the lodge amenities. Many properties have full fitness centers and luxurious spas - perfect for unwinding during the day. Guests can enjoy more refreshments before setting out on your afternoon game drive, which will conclude with a 'sundowner' and enjoy a classic Gin & Tonic while watching the sunset. As you make your way back to the lodge in the evening, guests will have the best opportunity to view nocturnal animals after the sun has set. Back at the lodge, fine dining and wine pairings are the name of the game, allowing guests an opportunity to refuel after a long day in the bush. Guests can join other travelers for a nightcap at the bar to exchange stories of memorable viewings - or retire to their suites to rest up for another wild day of safari.

Q: What is included with an Ubuntu Travel itinerary?

A: Just about everything! We want your travel experience to be seamless, so our programs are fully inclusive of everything you might need throughout your journey. We include all inter-Africa flights, all transfers, all meals and beverages, scheduled safari activities, luxury accommodations and if preferred, we can arrange for prepaid gratuities. The only additional expenses you can anticipate are your international flights (to and from Africa), visas, immunizations and any personal expenses, all of which we will advise you on.

Q: What are the most frequently visited destinations in Africa?

A: South Africa is definitely at the top of the list, since it is an exceptional destination for first time safari and repeat visitors. South Africa offers so much variety; wonderful cities, picturesque wine country, stunning beaches, national parks densely-populated with incredible wildlife, and immersive opportunities for cultural exploration and conservation. Kenya & Tanzania are a close second, as witnessing the famous Great Migration should be atop every traveler's bucket list. Some of our favorite travel destinations right now include: Botswana, for the most wild, 'on the edge of your seat' game viewing opportunities out there, Mozambique, for crystal blue waters and ultra-luxe private beach villas, Namibia, for desert scapes and scenery that will leave you breathless, and of course incredible Rwanda, home to the majestic and thriving mountain gorilla.
